

Manure Management

Balanced fertility based on profit and environment.

We understand manure management from more than just one point of view.

- TSM® knows how to use manure wherever possible.
- TSM® strives for high yields, which utilizes more manure.
- TSM® bases the amount of manure used on Maximum Economic Yield.
- TSM® knows there is a point where added manure just adds additional expense and returns no additional income.

Excess manure usually ends up reducing yield!

TSM® strongly encourages that all land under manure application be in the TSM® Program to insure protection of all interests! It's good for the landlord, the tenant, and for the large livestock producer!

We can help you dispose as much manure as possible, but keep it as environmentally sound as possible.

We will balance the fertility based on profit and based on environment.

If you use or want to use manure on your fields, let us help you do it the correct way that will profit you!
